Around And About Town

With C. F. SKIRVIN

Beginning today and continuing for six days America will observe "Old Glory Week." If the spirit of patriotism is surging through your veins put the old flag at the masthead and enshrine the spirit of its freedom in your heart. It is an emblem worthy of your respect and protection. I have been impressed recently by the same story returning tourists tell me. They all rejoice on their return to their native land. Recent years have shown a steady encroachment upon the liberties this emblem vouchsafes. If we are to remain the land of the free and the home of the brave it is imperative that we guard zealously against the subversive influences now lulling us to sleep while the foundations of our government are being undermined. "Old Glory Week" means a lot more than many of us either appreciate or understand. Forcible possession of property is just one of the encroaching influences which should arouse our patriotism and indignation. What America needs is a little more starch in her spinal column.

Chamfort says the "worst wasted" of all days is that during which one has not laughed, but Chamfort never owned an orange grove when one of those desert winds was sweeping the country.

The line of illumination steadily moves out West Fourth. Neon signs tell the story of the lengthening business season. If you are one of those after-dinner shoppers you probably have noticed the increasing extension of the retail districts. Really, the old town is showing ambitions when it comes to bright lights.

And George Jeffrey, who has been globe-trotting, is anxious to get a glimpse of the Statue of Liberty. He writes from Budapest, Hungary. He's been here and there, and still going. Will see Germany, Vienna and Lucerne, Genoa and Rome, and has had a wonderful time, but longs to get back to the homeland. Describing old countries he mentions one custom which wouldn't be so popular in this country—everybody works. You furnish your own relief.

Don't worry. The World Series is over and there will be something else. Why, if worse comes to worse you can go fishing. And if you do not like fishing any better than I do you can go to the Imperial Valley, if you get what I mean.

Chet Dale, either surreptitiously or legitimate, has discovered that my hard luck ceased last Friday. He was in the same World Series pool with me, and I held the lucky number. So he suggests that I quit singing the "Blues" and take up "Happy Days Are Here Again." It's more in line with his political thinking. He says if I'm not overweight, he might consider writing me a life insurance policy. On that basis I can get it.

Tomorrow will be 44 years since Chris. Columbus paid us a visit. Evidently he didn't like us. He hasn't been back. I sent him an invitation two years ago for a return engagement, but he did not reply. Guess I'll try air mail next time.

Another bright spot appeared on the returning alleged prosperity horizon—yep, see I'm not easily disillusioned—when Leonard Hurst offered a few biological suggestions as they apply to citrus investment. He manifest a personal interest in my grove and told me to get some oxygen, liquid ammonia, humus, nitrogen, plain gin, and then throw in a few colicums and a politician, and he said I'd get oranges as big as a volley ball. Darned if I don't take him on. I've tried everything else.

Charles Van Wyk's proposition to exchange a sack of almonds for a sack of almonds has been received and referred to the board of strategy. Anyway I figure it, either on the pound or volume basis, I would get the worst of it, unless I can sneak in a lot of hulls, and that I won't sleep or mentally inactive. Hope the committee reports: "No deal," instead of new deal.

Standard, State End H. B. Oil Fight

ROYALTY OF $518,000 TO BE ACCEPTED

Concessions Won For Future Settlements

Years of haggling between the Standard Oil company and the state over royalties for oil taken from the state's Huntington Beach under-water pool were ended today. An agreement with Standard and three other companies for payment of $518,628 royalties was announced in Sacramento today by Finance Director Arlin Stockburger, the Associated Press reported.

Additional concessions are given by the Standard company to the state, Stockburger said; but otherwise the settlement is on the same terms as those negotiated with other oil operators.

An easement is given the companies as a result of the agreement, permitting them to continue extracting oil and gas on a royalty basis. Besides the Standard company, the agreement affects the Pacific Electric Railway company, the Huntington Beach company, and the Pacific Electric Land company.

Revenues up to last Aug. 1, Stockburger said, total approximately $4,100,348, including the balance now due.

Extra concessions given the state by today's agreement are: 1. The state may cancel the agreements at any time. 2. Companies agree that an adjustment may be made and the state's compensation increased if the courts hold that the ordinary highwater line is further landward than the present survey line, thus disclosing more of the company's wells as being in the state's tidelands area.

3. If any higher royalties are established in connection with the Olson oil act or any other act, an upward revision of royalty payments may be made.

The state and the Standard company have disagreed for several years on the amount of royalties to be paid for oil already taken from the tideland pool. Today's settlement ends that disagreement.

The Olson act, which provides for drilling by private concerns with royalties to the state, is not yet operative. It may be submitted to a referendum vote next year.

The proposal will be made by Park Commissioner Ernest H. Layton. Layton advocates acquisition of the J. V. Sackman property adjoining the municipal bowl on the west. The property comprises about 7.5 acres.

If the council approves the proposal the matter would be put to a vote of the people at the special election Nov. 16, called to vote upon civil service for police and firemen.

Federal Judge Sued for $50,000

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Federal Judge Albert Lee Stephens was defendant today in trial of a $50,000 damage suit.

Dodena, Ruth and Ethel Hamilton, sister-owners of a dress shop, claim their merchandise suffered when Judge Stephens' building was fumigated to kill termites.

OGDEN MILLS VICTIM OF ILLNESS

Former Treasury Head Dies In New York

NEW YORK. (AP)—Ogden L. Mills, former secretary of the treasury, died at home today, after an illness of two weeks.

Mills was 53 years old. According to business associates, his death came with a seemingly trivial illness which had kept him from his desk for two weeks.

Mills had suffered several slight illnesses in the course of the summer. At the time of his death, Mills' activities were manifold. He was a director in the Cerro de Pasco Copper corporation, the New York Herald Tribune company, The Chase National Bank, the Merchants National Bank, the National Biscuit company, and the Seaboard Oil company.

Mills rose to his highest prominence in the nation's affairs under President Hoover, who made him secretary of the treasury in February, 1932, when Andrew Mellon, whom he had served as under-secretary of the treasury, retired. Mills left public office when President Roosevelt entered the White House. He was always a leading foe of the New Deal.

CONGRESS WAITS UPON FDR TALK

'Fireside Chat' May Reveal Session Plan

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt may disclose in his "fireside chat" tomorrow night whether he will call a special session of congress to enact farm control and wage-hour legislation. Most observers have predicted such a session in mid-November, but the president has withheld a decision until completing a canvass of the farm situation with Secretary Wallace.

The principal doubt that Mr. Roosevelt would ask congress to re-assemble before January disappeared last Friday, in the opinion of many Washingtonians, when the federal crop report estimated the second biggest cotton harvest in the nation's history.

Estimates for other crops today were expected to clinch the special session prospects. There was no direct word, however, that congress will be the subject of the President's talk tomorrow. All the White House announcement said was: "The address will be in the nature of a fireside chat. The president desires to make to the country (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

JAPANESE SEEK TO FILL WAR CHEST

Open New Drive To Subdue Chinese

TOKYO. (AP)—The Japanese government promulgated "Ordinance 23" today, officially starting its import restriction program.

The emergency law will close the doors of Japan to nearly 700 imported articles and place the nation on a basis of stern, Spartan frugality.

Starting immediately, Japan will be a "nation without luxuries." This maneuver, which is one of the most drastic in modern economic history, was designed to slash to the bone Japan's enormous annual international bills in order to provide maximum strength for the purchase of the sinews of war. Unofficially, it has been estimated that the warfare in China is costing $5,000,000 a day.

FUGE TRADE LOSS

Japan's trade ledger for 1937 shows $217,000,000 in red ink. However, Japan remains one of the United States' best customers, continuing heavy purchases of American oil, cotton, steel and machinery, all of which, as "urgent" materials, are exempted from the present prohibition.

Actually, while the trade of others with Japan will suffer, American trade will be facilitated and stimulated. The law furnishes more money for war materials. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

CLAIM SUITOR SHOT BRIDE

Hold Visitor For 'Honeymoon' Murder

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—An Atlanta, Ga., grocery clerk, who came West to get married, lay gravely wounded today as police gathered evidence to support the charge he killed another man's bride.

Shot twice in the chest in what Detective Lieut. Thad Brown said was a suicide attempt, 37-year-old Worth A. Clements was booked on suspicion of murder in the General hospital prison ward.

An inquest, meanwhile, impeded for Mrs. Lucille Register Campbell, 27, slain Saturday, three days after her secret marriage to Wayne Campbell in Tijuana, Mexico.

Detective Brown said a letter Mrs. Campbell wrote Clements two months ago spurned his suit, although their romance had endured three years.

'BLUEBEARD' TRIAL TO OPEN TODAY

CINCINNATI. (AP)—Mrs. Anna Hahn, 31-year-old German born blonde, strode confidently into court today "without a worry on my mind," to face an indictment in what Prosecutor Dudley Miller Outcall termed "the biggest mass murder in the country."

Mrs. Hahn is specifically charged with first degree murder in the deaths of Jacob Wagner, 78, on June 3 and George Gsellman, 67, who was found dead in bed July 6, but only the Wagner case was on trial today.

LABOR FIGHT HERE SEEN

AFL-CIO Battle May Follow Denver Parley

Southern California was described today as the probable theater of war for a decisive battle between the CIO and the AFL.

News from Denver, where the AFL is holding a convention, announced establishment of machinery to fight the CIO in the farm and "white collar" fields.

William Green, AFL president, said that Secretary E. D. Vandenberg of the California Federation of Labor has been commissioned to organize a National Council for Agricultural and Canery Workers. Organizers and money will be supplied to help the California AFL battle against the CIO.

Both the AFL and CIO are seeking to organize the agricultural

Dog Hero Loses Aged Friend

A drama in which a prominent, 89-year-old Santa Ana woman and a floppy-eared brown dog played central roles ended tragically Saturday with the death of Mrs. Hannah H. Maryatt, 331 East Chestnut street. The dog, an affectionate cocker-spaniel which used to come to Mrs. Maryatt's aid to be petted, had sounded an alarm that eased the woman's last few days of life, but the alarm was too late to save her.

She had gone into the yard Thursday evening after a neighborly visit with the Edward W. Cochems, who lived next door, and apparently had tripped and fallen as she walked slowly back toward her home.

She lay stunned for nearly a half hour. Then the floppy-eared dog happened by, came in for his petting, and barked a series of frightful barks as he saw his aged friend lying motionless on the lawn.

Neighbors finally were attracted, and they rushed the woman, suffering from a broken hip sustained in the fall, to St. Joseph hospital. She died Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Maryatt was the widow of the late O. H. Maryatt, former member of the board of city trustees and former commander of Sedgwick Post No. 17, G. A. R. A native of Vermont, she had lived in Santa Ana for the past 25 years.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Smith & Tutthill chapel at 10 a. m. Wednesday, with the Rev. Harry E. Owings, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. Interment will be at Fairhaven Mausoleum.

Announcement that Harold E. Dahl, American aviator, won freedom from a death sentence through his wife's plea for mercy to Spanish rebel leader Francisco Franco, had stirred up keen interest in two parts of Orange county today.

Dahl was well-known as a summer visitor in Laguna Beach, where he spent two extended vacations. He also is known, however, in the Orange county sheriff's office.

The young flier, who is expected to be freed from a prison in Spain in a few days and join his wife in France, was an acquaintance of Jim Workman, deputy sheriff, when they were enrolled in the Brookfield flying school at San Antonio, Texas.

Dahl's announced plan of embarking on a motion picture career in Hollywood, meanwhile, may have been altered suddenly with the announcement that he would be arrested the minute he sets foot on American soil on Los Angeles warrants charging three counts of forgery while he was on parole after having pleaded guilty to a check charge in February, 1936.

The American aviator leaped in to headlines recently when his beautiful young wife pleaded with Generalissimo Franco for his release from a death sentence.

Dahl had spent the summers of 1935 and 1936 as a guest at the Hotel Laguna, where he played a daily round of badminton with Lloyd Seilset, hotel manager.

"He didn't talk much about flying," Seilset remarked today. "I believe he even visited Martin's airport while he was vacationing here."

He struck up a friendship with Jim Douglas, hotel employee, when the latter recognized one of his best friends in a picture of Dahl's Brookfield flying class.

Seilset believes Dahl had no personal political passions that would have driven him to Spain. His theory is that the flier needed a job and accepted the $1500-a-month offer to fly for the loyalists. The hotel manager said he received a letter from Dahl, after he had left Laguna, claiming he was in financial trouble and mentioning a partial settlement for his hotel bill.

Deputy Sheriff Workman said he knew Dahl only casually, since they were in different classes at the Texas flying school.

When Dahl's plane fell behind the rebel lines more than two months ago, he was speedily put on trial and faced almost certain death.

He was given a temporary reprieve several days later after a beautiful wife had sent a note, with her picture enclosed, to Generalissimo Franco, pleading for his husband's life and promising she would keep him out of Spain for the duration of the war if he were freed.

It was not until last Friday that the permanent reprieve order came through.

ELIGIBILITY QUIZ PLEA IS DENIED

Gives Justice Clear Title to Position

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The supreme court rejected today two petitions challenging Justice Hugo L. Black's eligibility to hold a seat on the high bench.

The court denied motions by Albert Levitt, former federal judge in the Virgin Islands, and Patrick Henry Kelly, Boston attorney, who asked the court to determine Black's legal qualifications for the post.

Chief Justice Hughes announced the court's ruling to a packed courtroom. Black himself sat on the bench with his colleagues. Throughout the brief announcement he maintained a solemn demeanor.

MOTION DENIED

The Levitt motion was denied on the ground it disclosed "no interest upon the part of the petitioner other than that of a citizen and a member of the bar of this court."

Such an interest was held to be insufficient to warrant the court's hearing Levitt's challenge. Regarding the Kelly motion the court said merely it was "denied" in view of the action in the Levitt petition. There was no indication that there was any division among the justices over the ruling. How the justices vote in such instances is not announced.

Dismissal of the challenges gave Black a clear title to his seat insofar as present legal actions are concerned.

FIGHT NOT ENDED

Levitt, however, has indicated that there may be others.

"This fight will not be over if my petition is denied," he had said before the ruling.

Neither the Kelly nor Levitt motions made any reference to charges of Ku Klux Klan membership which furnished the basis for principal senate attacks on Black's appointment and caused a storm of controversy before he finally took his seat.

To the charges Black said in a radio speech to the nation that he had joined the Ku Klux Klan once but had resigned and never rejoined.

In their motions Levitt and Kelly contended there was no vacancy on the court to which Black could be appointed. Levitt also argued that Black was ineligible because he was a member of the senate which increased "emoluments" of the justices by voting the supreme court retirement act.

MRS. FDR GETS NEW WATCH

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The president gave Mrs. Roosevelt a water-tight wrist watch today for her 53rd birthday.

Back in the White House after three months of being "off-the-record," the first lady told her press conference she was quite amused when her husband chose a watch she could "go swimming with."

She said it followed her walls and means about ruining one that way this summer.

Only the family was expected for her birthday dinner tonight, which with the Roosevelts, traditionally means a cake with only 21 candles.

A TASTE OF WAR TONIGHT

By BRADEN FINCH

There'll be a taste of war in Southern California tonight as Uncle Sam's battle fleet starts a week of target practice off the coast.

Windows will rattle from the distant concussion of the big guns as though shaken by an earthquake.

Suppose those shells were exploding in the communities of Orange county instead of far out at sea. Then your windows would really rattle, your house might fall down in flames on your head and perhaps it would be a week before a cleanup squad got around to digging you out of the wreckage for decent burial. Just another reason why this country should stay out of foreign quarrels.

COUPLE ESCAPE DEATH AS CAR CRASHES INTO LOCOMOTIVE

FIFTEEN HURT IN COUNTY AUTO MISHAPS

Twelve Accidents Are Reported

An 18-year-old Riverside girl was hurt in the most spectacular crash of a relatively safe car traffic week-end when her young companion's car struck a train near Orange Saturday evening.

Malburn L. Morrison, 18, March Field, was driving south on Tustin avenue when he suddenly saw a locomotive backing into the intersection.

DRIVER UNHURT

Ellen Frasier, 18, riding with Morrison, was rushed to the county hospital for emergency treatment of minor cuts and bruises, and the March Field youth was unhurt. He told investigating highway patrolmen there was no signal at the crossing.

Fifteen persons sustained cuts, bruises and other minor injuries as nearly a dozen week-end accidents sprinkled Orange county highways with shattered glass and tangled metal.

CLIMBS ON TRUCK

Raymond Lane, 26, reported to be a hitch-hiker from Springfield, Ill., sustained a possible fractured elbow and scalp lacerations when he assertedly attempted to climb on a moving truck west of Huntington Beach on the coast highway late last night.

Martin Lopez Ocasio, driver of the truck, said he felt the blow but did not know what had happened.

WOMEN INJURED

Mrs. Daisy Showalter, 60, and Janice Showalter, 12, both of Orange, reported to be her granddaughter, were injured when cars driven by Frank A. Showalter, 36, 504 North Glasseil street, Orange, and Rexford McGill, 25, Orange truck-driver, collided on Main street, one-fourth mile south of Orange.

James S. Utley, 50, Inglewood, sustained minor bruises when his car and one driven by Howard Bosworth, 1047 West Pine street, Santa Ana, collided at the intersection of Parkhaven and Yorba avenues northeast of Santa Ana.

Other minor week-end accidents:

ARM BROKEN

Bud Walters, son of Fred Walters, Laguna Beach, sustained a broken arm when a Public Mill and Lumber company truck driven by Cleo Evans tipped over on Laguna Canyon road near the Laguna Beach city limits yesterday. The truck swerved to avoid hitting another car.

Robert B. Dockstader, Long Beach, sustained minor injuries early yesterday, when his car ran into a barricaded ditch at Thirtieth and Ocean avenues in Huntington Beach. Two small children in the car were unhurt.

PROPERTY DAMAGE

John M. Carmine, 114 West Camille street, and Mrs. Velma McAlpin, 210 West Highland street, collided at Richland and Broadway late Saturday night, causing property damage only.

Merle Hart, 1107 West Chestnut street, and Glen M. Bright, 417B West Pine street, collided at North Park boulevard and Hell-trope drive early Sunday. None was injured.

Charles R. Hoffman, 1115 North Louise street, and John George Munz, Garden Grove, collided Saturday afternoon at Tenth and Main street. Both cars were damaged but the occupants escaped injury.

Lookout Sees Forest and Banks Get Holiday

Peering through a South Atlantic fog 445 years ago, a lookout on a tubby, creaking ship saw a forest rise from a distant cloud.

Because of that, city, county and state employees and bank and title company workers get a holiday tomorrow—Columbus day.

Oct. 12 is commonly accepted as the date of Columbus' discovery of what is now believed to be the island of San Salvador, where he reported dense forests. The island now is covered with scrubby brush.

Although tomorrow will be a legal holiday, the postoffice and other federal government offices will remain open because the national government does not recognize the day as anything out of the ordinary.

JAPANESE OPEN NEW SHANGHAI MOVE

SHANGHAI, (AP)—Under a weak sun attempting to break through overhanging skies, Chinese and Japanese troops crawled out of their muddy burrows today along the 25-mile front to the northwest and resumed the almost two-month-old battle for Shanghai.

The smoldering ruins of the China Merchants' Navigation company's lower wharf and warehouses directly opposite the bund on the Pootung side of the Whang-poo river were the only results of the Japanese warships' pre-dawn bombardment of the rich industrial area.

A Japanese naval spokesman announced the Chinese peppered the Japanese warships with machine guns from the wharf and the Japanese retaliated with their big guns.

CARGOES DAMAGED

The property loss was estimated at $2,000,000, including considerable American and other foreign cargoes. The bombardment of Pootung began in a pouring rain during the final hours of Sunday, upsetting an otherwise generally quiet day.

MAY TALK WAR

Speculation arose over the possibility the President might amplify his discussion of the international situation to which he devoted a major speech in Chicago last Tuesday. Some believed he might outline the role of the United States in the forthcoming nine-power conference on the undeclared Sino-Japanese war.

There was speculation, too, whether he might mention the controversy over the appointment of Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black or whether he might indicate any intention to resume his campaign for court reorganization.

Should he voice a demand for the latter, it might be added to the special session agenda. Crop control legislation, however, has been agreed on as the first order of business.

PRESIDENT URGES FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt said today the people of the United States are determined to uphold that ideal of human society "which would substitute freedom for force in the governments of the world."

He spoke on a radio program broadcast in connection with the removal to Arlington national cemetery of the remains of General Vladimir B. Krzyzanski, Polish patriot who served in the United States army during the war between the states.

Mr. Roosevelt, praising Polish contributions to America's fight for independence remarked upon Poland's "glorious struggle for liberty" which "happily ended in our own day and generation in the restoration of Poland to nationhood and to her rightful place as a sovereign state."

Pending official notification of Italy's attitude both toward Japan and China, Chinese officials at Nanking today declined comment on Tokyo dispatches saying the Italian ambassador to Aokyo had assured Japan of Italy's wholehearted support in her action against China.

AWAIT ITALY REPLY

It is learned reliably, however, that the uncertain attitude displayed by the Italian press during the last few weeks on Italy's position had prompted the Chinese government to contact Rome for an official clarification of Italy's position in the present conflict.

The Chinese high command at Nanking indicated the fighting of the past eight weeks had cost 75,000 casualties, of which 20,000 were killed. They added there was no cause for alarm as China's man power was inexhaustible, with waves of would-be soldiers swamping the recruiting stations.

The command stated there were upwards of 1,000,000 men already in uniform in the provinces, with "uncounted millions" available if needed. Authorities said thousands of the upper class had volunteered for front line duty but the majority had been utilized where they were needed more urgently.

ALL QUIET ON LABOR SCENE HERE TODAY

Quiet reigned on Santa Ana's labor front today after a week-end passed uneventfully.

Two merchant police were employed by the Main Drive-In market center of the union strike, to protect the property after "stink crystals" had been sprayed on the floor of the market Friday night, but the week-end passed without incident.

"Paper pickets" were taken off their beats in front of the Main Drive-In market at Chestnut and Main streets and Slater's market at 1245 South Main street Saturday morning.

The Fourth Street market joined the Main Drive-In and Slater's in opening Sunday. Other markets have announced plans for reopening on Sundays and all day, Mexican markets also remained open.

The meatcutters' union is seeking to close markets at uniform hours during the week and all day Sundays and holidays. The Drive-In and Slater's have refused to close on Sundays and holidays, and also have refused to conform to the shorter hours.

Members of the union held a meeting yesterday, but no announcement came as a result of the meeting.

When you arrive at the same time the car does, without notice from the approaching vehicle, you're lucky if your brakes work perfectly. Never mind the car. You didn't get any notice in the first place and his brakes won't do you any good. But when you do reach the alley totally unprepared for the approaching car and you get the horn the same time you and the automobile want to cross, that's when your nervous system starts to percolate and also your opinion of the driver. Yep, that's what I've said many a time, but he didn't hear me.

WILL AWARD FLOOD JOBS THIS WEEK

Contracts aggregating $90,000 will be awarded contractors this week by United States army engineers for work in Orange county's great $15,248,000 flood control and water conservation project. The Journal learned today.

They are first bids to be awarded on the county-wide water project. TO LOCATE SITE

Captain Mathias of the district U. S. army engineering office in Los Angeles told The Journal that the work to be done includes actual determination of exact sites for all eight of the big dams to be constructed by the government for Orange county.

When the work included in the contracts is completed, final plans for the dams will be drafted and the dams will be built. The engineers said that the contracts for this initial work probably will be let to more than one concern. What contractors get the jobs will be determined largely by the type of equipment they have.

TO START SOON

Crews of men will be put to work making foundation drillings. These drillings are made to enable the engineers to place the dams on the most solid foundations possible. Core drillings will be made to bedrock. The work will start within 30 days.

The first dam sites to be tested are the Prado, Brea, Fullerton and Carbon canyons. The other four sites also will be tested, as soon as work is completed on the first four.

The government will spend nearly $13,000,000 in building the eight dams. Orange county's share of the cost is $2,500,000, provided for in the recent bond issue voted here.

Driver Cited by Fire Truck Pilot

When State Forester Joe Scherman from Orange has gotta go to a fire, he's gotta go, and anyone who gets in his way is liable to be arrested, even if Scherman has to stop going to the fire to arrest him.

This was illustrated yesterday, when the state forester was rushing to a blaze of bean straw on Katella road, near Anaheim.

Pedro Armenta, who lives at Katella and Berry roads, wouldn't listen to the siren on the state truck, Scherman charged, so the truck was halted and Armenta cited to appear before Justice of the Peace Cal Lester.

Then Scherman went on to his fire, which wasn't so much, anyway. No damage, he reported.

FIVE LOCAL TROOPS WIN AT CAMPORAL

Five crack Orange county troops came away from the Southern California-Arizona Boy Scout camporal in Irvine park with high honors.

The regional event closed last night after two days of intensive scouting work, taken part in by 181 patrols representing close to 2000 boys.

14 LOCAL PATROLS

In Orange county's division, there were 14 patrols entered in the camporal. Eleven of the patrols received the full five achievement awards for camping technique, application, handicraft, council participation and general scouting achievements.

The first ranking five troops from Orange county were Penticia troop 100, Huntington Beach troop 1, Santa Ana troop 25, Santa Ana troop 23 and Anaheim troop 75. Besides the 14 patrols entered, nearly 400 Orange county scouts staged their own private camporal.

The camporal started Saturday morning with a grand entry. The balance of the day was spent in setting up camp and in preliminary judging. Final judging took place yesterday.

SUNDAY TALKS

Sunday morning the Rev. Albert E. Kelly, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, delivered a sermon to the Protestant boys. Father Dolan of Los Angeles talked to the Catholic boys. Col. M. B. Wellington, Santa Ana, president of the Orange County Boy Scout council and a regional director, made the closing address last night.

A total of 350 adult leaders took part in the colorful event. This is a record number.

Scout Executive Harrison E. White of Orange county was active in arrangements for the camporal, and was prominently identified with camporal activities.

DAVIS HOLDS ANSWER TO POLITICAL 'JIG-SAW' PUZZLE

ATTORNEY IS 'SCARECROW' IN TWO RACES

Potential Candidates Await His Decision

By FRANK ORR
James L. Davis, recently assistant district attorney and now drumming up a first-class private law practice, came into his own today as the No. 1 candidate-frightener of the forthcoming 1938 county-job campaign.

So far he has frightened several hopefuls away from the district attorney's race.

Today he may be frightening another eager herd away from a nibble at the superior judgeship now held by Judge H. G. Ames.

NO DECISION YET
Davis is still very silent as to his plans for next year. Chances are he has not made any decision on whether or not to run for public office. The decision may depend on how his new private practice builds up—if it proves very lucrative, he may stay out of the race altogether. Thereby causing many signs of relief among eager Democrats.

Democrats deny reports that they will put a full slate in the field next year for all offices, even the non-partisan county jobs. People who know will tell you, though, that there probably will be a Democratic leader popping up here and there in almost any race, and that party lines will be drawn even more strictly than ever before.

UNUSUAL LINEUP
As things line up this early, it would be amusing to find the Democrats yapping up the Department One tree, and the Republicans holding a clambake across the hall in a scramble against Republican Judge James L. Allen.

Judge Ames is an old-time Democratic leader. Davis is one of the most active Democrats in the county. Martell Thompson of Orange, another Democratic bigwig, is said to be gazing in Judge Ames' direction. And Democratic States Senator Harry Westover had thoughts for awhile of casting his hat into the ring, although by now he has decided that the state senate is a nice place for Fowler of Santa Ana, and Fred, William, Thomas, John and Harley of Rosville, Cal.; 10 grandchildren, and one great-grandchild. Funeral services will be announced later by Brown and Wagner.

CORNEILL—Marjorie Lou Corneill, 4, died at her home in Orange, Oct. 9. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Layton Virgil Corneill; a sister, Beverly Jean; and her grandparents, Mrs. Jennie Corneill and Mrs. Ollie Powers. Graveside services will be held Tuesday at 3 p. m. at Fairhaven cemetery, with the Rev. W. S. Buchanan officiating and the Winbigler Mortuary in charge.

LIRETTE—Rev. Father J. Alfred Lirette, 52, died Oct. 10 at St. Joseph hospital. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Lirette of Lowell, Mass.; seven brothers, the Rev. Leonard Lirette, S. M., of Nicolet, Canada; the Rev. Brother Peter Anthony of Tyngsboro, Mass.; Charles Lirette of Bonnyville, Alberta; Raymond Lirette and Theophile Lirette of Lowell, Mass.; Henry J. Lirette of Beacon Hill, Sask.; Arthur J. Lirette of Pasadena; four sisters, the Rev. Mother M. Francis, superior general; Sister M. Elizabeth and Sister M. Charles, sisters of St. Joseph of Orange, and Mrs. Angelina Dionne, Salem, Mass. The body will lay in state after 3 o'clock today at the chapel of St. Joseph hospital, on Batavia street, Orange. Solemn requiem mass will be celebrated tomorrow at 10 a. m., with burial in Lowell, Mass., and Winbigler's Mortuary in charge.

the rest of his term. He would like to go to congress some day, too.

DAVIS 'SCARECROW'

On Davis' decision depend several other candidates. If he should run for district attorney, as was reported when he resigned as W. P. Menton's assistant two months ago, he might frighten away most other candidates—with the possible exception of one or two young attorneys who would like to get their names before the public. If he does not run, watch for Elmer Guy of Fullerton, whose decision depends entirely on Davis' action.

Guy's law partner, Albert Lauer, would like a seat on the bench. He might be found campaigning for Judge Allen's job, along with Franklin West and Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison.

They all depend, however, on Davis. It's like a newsreel of spectators at a tennis match. Would-be candidates may develop stiff necks wagging heads from side to side, watching Davis swat the ball. Their trouble is that they don't know which game he's playing in.

Frank Schoenheider, 80, a resident of Orange for the past 15 years and a prominent member of the St. Johns Lutheran church there, died yesterday at his home, 515 South Orange avenue, Orange, after an extended illness.

Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. A. C. Bode, pastor of the St. Johns Lutheran church, in the church at 2 p. m. tomorrow. A prayer service in the Gilgoly Funeral chapel at 1:45 p. m. will precede the funeral rites, and the body will be shipped to Tinley Park for interment.

and considerable amusement for members of the Newport Beach police department yesterday.

A resident reported the situation in an excited voice on the telephone. The informant said a Japanese was taking pictures. He was taking pictures of rocks near the Corona Del Mar bathhouse.

Chief of Police R. R. Hodgkinson sent out an officer to bring the situation under control.

The officer investigated and made his report. He said a Japanese actually was taking pictures of rocks near the Corona Del Mar bathhouse. He said he had conversed with Jimmie Hosokawa, 30, of Los Angeles, who was taking the pictures.

There doesn't seem to be any law against Japanese taking pictures of rocks near the Corona Del Mar bathhouse. But the officer said the situation was under control.

CHEST MOVES NEARER ITS GOAL TODAY

Reports pouring in to campaign headquarters since the Friday report luncheon meeting give further indication of success in the Community Chest campaign when the final report luncheon meeting is held Tuesday noon at the Elks club. On Friday only 10 per cent more was needed to reach the goal.

Since Friday noon reports from the residential districts have brought the women's organization up to 104 per cent of quota, according to Mrs. Clarence Gustlin, chairman of the group.

FIRE DEPARTMENT
"Our women's organization is not stopping at the 100 per cent mark and we need but $216 more to make good our promise of $500 more after Friday," Mrs. Gustlin said.

The city fire department has reported 100 per cent of quota with an average subscription of one day's pay and incomplete reports indicate that the police department will equal the fire department record. Fire department solicitation was handled by Councilman William Penn and Assistant Chief John Garthe.

FINAL MEETING
All departments of the campaign are continuing their activities without a report meeting today working toward a completion of their assignments by noon Tuesday when the final meeting will be held.

Two more members of the residential districts have achieved their quotas since Friday. They are Mrs. Clara Steels and Mrs. Marshall Burke.

Success story: C. F. (Skinny) Skirvin, The Journal's ace columnist, won FOUR of the FIVE "pools" he was invited to enter during the World Series.

Overconfidence, more than anything else, may deprive Santa Ana's Dons of their 15th straight football victory in the Eastern J. C. conference.

Whether the junior collegians' heads have begun to swell remains to be seen, but it's no secret that Coaches Bill Cook and Blanchard Beatty have a tough assignment ahead in warding off "cockiness" in drill this week.

Chaffey was one of the stand-out contenders of the '37 season until the Dons triple-teamed the Ontario eleven for a 27-to-0 victory.

Some of the local lads, who were told to FEAR Chaffey, may be inclined to regard their next game at San Bernardino Friday night too lightly.

One of Cook's best weapons in his pep talks will be that 20-to-0 victory San Bernardino scored over the Pasadena eleven which Santa Ana barely defeated, 12 to 6, in the first game of the season.

Many observers believe the Santa Ana-San Bernardino struggle will just about decide the conference championship.

Joe Koegler, Coach Bill Foote's right-hand man, who scouted Chaffey last week while Santa Ana passed its way to a 13-7 victory over Huntington Beach, believes the Saints can "take" the Tigers in the Citrus Belt league opener at Poly field Friday afternoon. "I believe our line can outcharge Chaffey," Koegler said. "The general improvement of Bill Collins at halfback and the return of Bill Musick at fullback will be other factors aiding the Saints."

If you need a fish story, try this one on your next party:

"An angler caught a finny specimen which had colored stripes along its body, giving it a streamlined appearance. The most unusual characteristic, however, was the fact that it swam backward to keep the water from its eyes."

"The fish backed up until it felt the bait with its tail. Then it gave the bait a swat, knocked it around in front, and grabbed it."

FARR MAY BOX IN ENGLAND

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng. (P)—Tommy Farr returned from the United States today luxuriating in the hope of amassing a neat fortune next year.

He told welcome he expected to run up over a half a million dollars and said if the terms "are good enough" he might fight in England between now and Feb. 20 when he boxes an American heavyweight, probably James J. Braddock, in Miami.

"I think I beat Joe Louis," he said, "but anyway, I learned plenty for next time."

Pollock Sparks Bears to 27 to 0 Win Over Cougars

Morris Pollock, University of California's speedy halfback, was a threat to Washington State in Berkeley when the Bears defeated the Cougars 27 to 0. On this play Pollock went to the Cougars' 15-yard line on a 24-yard sprint. Harrison (35), Grinstead (32) and Rumburg are Washington States, while 66 is Bob Herwig, the Bear's crack center.

Allison Team Rolls
Up 51 Points to Opposition's Six

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND
SAN FRANCISCO. (P)—Upsets rocked the Far Western gridiron world last week-end, but the big question on the lips of a million or more fans today is, "Who's going to stop the University of California?"

Santa Clara, conqueror of Stanford two weeks ago, remained undefeated by winning over San Francisco university, 13 to 0, yesterday. But Santa Clara, independent of conference affiliations, has no engagement with California this season.

On the basis of latest returns, it wasn't exactly an easy football problem to solve. The Golden Bears, thus far living up to the pre-season role of favorite to win the Pacific Coast conference championship, added Washington State college to a list of victims which also numbers Oregon State college and the non-conference St. Mary's Gaels.

REGULARS SCORE EARLY
California swamped Washington State, 27 to 0, in what the followers of the turf describe as "just a breeze." Coach Leonard (Stub) Allison followed his customary practice of giving second and third string players a healthy workout after the first team had practically clinched the game with three touchdowns in the first half.

California, boasting a powerful line, tremendous forward push and remarkably proficient in the important detail of blocking, has written two conference victories into the record and, with no defeats, is the only unbeaten eleven in the eight-team circuit after three weeks of play.

While the Bears were taking undisputed leadership in the championship race, last year's title winner and Rose Bowl defender, University of Washington, went down to stunning defeat.

Oregon State, rank short-order, came up with a 6-to-3 victory. All the Huskies could do was split the uprisings with a field goal against Oregon State, whipped by California, 24 to 6, the week previous, and by Idaho, 7 to 6, earlier in the schedule.

Other unexpected results saw Stanford topple the highly favored University of California at Los Angeles Bruins, 12 to 7, and Southern California edge out Ohio State, 13 to 12. A 95-yard run by Right Halfback Hal Hirshorn saved U. C. L. A. from the humiliation of a scoreless defeat.

U. S. C. VS. OREGON
Southern California came from behind to uphold Far Western prestige in inter-sectional combat by the margin of a place kick after the Big Ten team, winner over Texas Christian and Purdue in its first two games, came to the coast as strong favorite to lick the team which had lost to Washington, 7 to 0, earlier in the schedule.

This Saturday U. S. C. meets Oregon, which bounced back into contention with a 40-to-0 win over non-conference Gonzaga last week. Other conferences clashes this week-end will bring together Oregon State and U. C. L. A. and Washington and Washington

WILLIAMS AND WHITE COP TENNIS TITLE

Mrs. Kathryn Williams and Thurn (Toby) White were the new champions of the Santa Ana Tennis club's mixed doubles tournament today, following their 7-5, 1-6, 8-6 victory over Miss Hilda Lange and Jack McManus in finals at the high school yesterday.

The defending titlists, Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore Ward, were dethroned in the second round.

Santa Ana's netters are preparing for Citrus Belt competition with Riverside, Pomona, Redlands and San Bernardino. Probable withdrawal of Fullerton will leave the inland league with a five-team set-up.

Mixed doubles results:
Mr. and Mrs. Braden Finch defeated Jeanette Brown and Harold Lewis, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Ward and Ward def. Knight and Van Booven, 6-2, 6-3.

Merrick and French, 8-6, 6-0.

Jack McManus and Hilda Lange def. Kenneth Runney and Ann Wetherell, 6-2, 3-6, 6-1.

White and Williams def. Finch and Finch, 8-6, 6-2.

Semi-finals—White and Williams def. Ward and Ward, 6-4, 6-3; McManus and Lange def. Jacobs and Miller, 6-3, 2-6, 6-3.

Finals—White and Williams def. McManus and Lange, 7-5, 1-6, 8-6.

Consolation—Merrick and French won from Bettis and Herrick, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4.

State. Washington and U. C. L. A. probably will occupy the roles of favorites.

Important Sunday games bring together St. Mary's and Loyola at Los Angeles, and Santa Clara and Portland at San Francisco.

Today a year ago—Helen Willis Moody paired with Don Budge to stop the 14-game winning streak of the Dons Friday night at San Bernardino, Santa Ana gridders discovered today their 27-0 rout of Chaffey turned out to be an expensive victory.

The injury jinx, which has hounded Don grid captains since Coach Bill Cook took over the reins 11 years ago, finally caught up with this year's pair of leaders, Erwin Yonel and Ed Stanley.

The co-captains will be forced to take it easy for most of the week. Although hampered by leg injuries, the ace wingman and blocking halfback are expected to be at their starting posts when the Don-Indian battle gets underway. Stanley has a recurrence of last week's charley horse, and Yonel has a sore muscle on the calf of his left leg.

Bill Sennacher, Carroll Joy and John Joseph are waging a battle royal for the end positions with Yonel and Ted DeVeiss, the Anaheim whirlwind.

Tackles Russell (Rusty) Roquet and Bob Paul, Guards Joe Crawford and Dick Tauber and Center Dan Boyd all warmed the hearts of the coaching staff in the Chaffey rout. Tackle Gil Nehrig, Center Elmer Casey, Guard Pete Kotlar and Center Jerry Nesmith, substitute front liners who constantly outcharged the Panther forwards, also came in for their share of praise.

JACK JENKINS QUILTS
Jack Jenkins, all-league fullback from Huntington Beach, whom the Dons were grooming for a right halfback post, has quit the team to accept a job in Bakersfield.

Santa Ana's starting combination for Friday night's game will be a difficult one to determine. Oliver McCarther and Les McLennan rode roughshod over the Panthers in the fourth quarter when they scored three touchdowns, but their work was made easier by the softening of their opponents by the work of Blas Mercurio and Larry Timken in another outfit which started the second half.

Starting the game at left half instead of fullback, Mac Beall played heads-up ball in spite of a pair of cuts over his eye. Charles Mueller, who spelled Beall on Mercurio's team, remains one of Cook's No. 1 blockers.

CO-CAPTAINS HURT AS DONS PREPARE FOR S. B. ELEVEN

'MICKEY' TO REFEREE AT 101 ARENA
Baxter, Martinez to Draw Tough Foes In Double Feature

La Verne Baxter, handsome playboy of wrestling, whose tactics combine the best of Ernie Dusek, Chief Chewaki, Wee Willie Davis and other notorious roughers, tonight makes his bow to fans here when he meets Nick Lutze in the best two-out-of-three fall, catch-as-catch-can one-hour time limit main event at the Orange County Athletic club. The first bout gets under way promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

Lutze is as well known as Baxter is unknown hereabouts. Nick also is as popular hereabouts as Baxter promises to become unpopular, in spite of the fact that he is a good performer and so tough that he had to be suspended two weeks ago for giving the works to an opponent after he had defeated him.

Mickey (Mouse) McMasters, pint-sized referee who has been officiating at Hollywood and other mat centers, will handle the bout and also the balance of the program.

The state athletic commission notified officials of the Highway 101 arena of McMasters' appointment Saturday.

fast and scientific match and Baxter resorting to all the illegal tricks and tactics he has picked up from such masters of wild tactics as Dusek, Chewaki, Davis and others, fans should see a sensational match from the outset, with McMasters in the center of more than one furious mixup.

They Watched the Big Show From the Sidelines

Gomez, Lazzeri Series' Heroes

NEW YORK. (P)—The Yanks celebrated their victory with a big party tossed by Col. Ruppert in the Commodore last night. . . . Everyone was there and the show ran until daylight. . . . It was the worst series in years for the ticket specs. . . . All of 'em took a terrific licking. . . . The Giants, like the club owners, got only one game. . . . Dullest series in years, says John Q. Fan. . . . Very few fireworks until that outbreak of homers in the final. . . . A few lasts: Gomez had the last put out and Gehrig the last assist. . . . Crosetti drew the last walk and Hank Leiber the last hit. . . . Gomez tossed the last ball and the last strike. . . . Mell Ott hit the last homer. . . . Last beef was made by William Harold Terry, collaborating with Gus Mancuso. . . . Both swore Bill Dickey "tip" Pinchhitte Wally Berger's bat when Wally ingloriously rolled out to Lazzeri to start the ninth. . . . Gehrig was the last strike-out victim.

Most folks will single out Lefty Gomez (who trimmed the Giants twice) as the series hero. . . . Our Army showed 'em something, too. . . . Oregon State took Washington for a buggy ride. . . . Tennessee and Duke tie. . . . You'll find out if Alabama is as good as they say next Saturday when the die colldies with Tennessee. . . . New York liked the Break-makers from North Carolina, and Coach Chick Mehan of Manhattan rates a bow or so for upsetting Michigan State. . . . You had better keep an eye on that Walter Mayberry, Florida halfback. . . . He showed Temple plenty and then some.

That job with the Bees is an ideal spot for Rabbit Maranville, an idol in Beantown. . . . He is being considered along with Larry Gilbert of the New Orleans Pelis, for whom Prexy Bob Quinn has all kinds of respect. . . . Jim Bottomley is definitely out at St. Louis, and the Brown owners are shopping. . . . Twitted about his new haircut, Judge Landis said: "Hell, I got one at least once a year."

And now for football: What about Illinois holding Notre Dame to a tie. . . . If anybody had any doubts as to whether Cornell was "they," they can perish then. . . . GROWING PAINS

By Phillips

"I don't really need 'em, but they come in handy in case of a fight."

TOWNSEND NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER R. ROBB

Approximately 350 Townsends gathered in Santa Ana Townsend hall Saturday evening to hear Capt. Russell R. Hand of Los Angeles. He was introduced by District Manager J. H. Walsh, who presided over the meeting. Previous to the speaking, Grant Henderson led the audience in a period of community singing.

Captain Hand congregated the thoughts of his address around the benefits that would accrue to the business men of every community from the Townsend annuity money placed in circulation when the plan becomes law. He pointed out that the merchants would benefit even before the folks spending the money, as they would ring into their cash registers profits from sales even before the annuitants had chance of using articles purchased. He also pointed to the volume of money which would be spent for newspaper advertising even in advance of the coming into their hands of the elderly, the annuity money. He said as soon as the news of the enactment of the bill into law became known the factories of the nation would immediately prepare for an increase of their output because of the inple that was certain to result. The wholesale and retail establishments he likewise illustrated would increase their orders in anticipation of the increased volume of business and to insure their getting their just share of such business would increase their volume of advertising with the newspapers even before the elderly people received their first checks. He forcefully drove home the fact that the national problems now existing hinge around an inadequate money circulation which the Townsend plan placed in law would cure.

Captain Hand is the head of a trading stamp concern in Los Angeles which promotes the sale of Townsend plan stamps to the merchants. The plan has received the O. K. of Dr. Townsend and is being used now by many of the merchants of L. A. and surrounding towns. They are to be introduced in the 19th district shortly, according to the speaker.

Santa Ana Club No. 2 meets in Townsend hall at 7:30 this evening at 509 West Fourth street for a business meeting. Pope R. Long, president, will be in charge.

Mirandy of radio fame, accompanied by hillbilly entertainers, will be presented in Santa Ana Townsend hall at 509 West Fourth street at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening. Santa Ana Club No. 8 is promoting the entertainment. A charge for admission of 10 cents will be made at the door and the proceeds will be used to promote the Townsend cause interests except those necessary for actual expenses. This group never fails to bring worthwhile fun and wholesome inspiration for better living. Mirandy is a Townsendite and she will not hesitate to make it plain that she is. She has unusual ability to impersonate "Brother McCandless" as a minister who preaches the Christian gospel with a simplicity that is striking. If you miss hearing her and her companions you will be a great loser. Tell your neighbors and come yourself prepared with the admission fee.

Anahim Club No. 1 is putting on an entertainment in the Townsend club building at 210 South

REAL ESTATE VALUE RANKS COUNTY HIGH

OPPORTUNITY STILL SEEKS FOR FREDDIE

Second Wire Offers Job to Newsboy

Freddie Carson's jaunt through the United States in his unique motorized wheel chair and trailer had brought him to Mt. Vernon, Texas, today. But it was not yet known whether or not he has received word of the job which is trying to catch up with him.

Several days ago The Journal sent a telegram to the legless Santa Ana newsboy, whose courage in undertaking the journey has awakened admiration here. The telegram was sent in care of Texas police, who were asked to locate him, and it was sent after The Journal received a letter from the Real Courage association of Battle Creek, Mich., saying it had a job for him. Today the Journal sent another wire.

HAVING GOOD TIME

George Platt, Santa Ana service station owner who has helped Freddie, received a letter from him, saying that Freddie's new address is Mt. Vernon, Texas.

"In regard to the trip," Freddie said in the letter, "well, I'm having the best time I ever had in my life so far, and meeting so many people. Well, it's just swell to be alive, etc. Really a fellow just sits around so long and he thinks the world and everyone has gone sour but then to get out and see different sights and find there are plenty of other people who will really call you their friend, etc."

CHEST BULGES

"Yesterday there were doctors and lawyers here to talk with me and see the outfit—so it really is giving me a chance to mingle with and talk to other than the laborer and poorer class of people, which makes a fellow's chest kind of bulge out to think that. I'm really going to amount to something after all other than just a 'bean-eating newsboy.' At least I can afford a T-bone steak now and then, ha, ha."

"I sure have gotten lots of attention so far. It has been in Popular Science as well as world news and the majority of large papers."

THANKS SKINNY

"I am getting my laundry done today—the first since I left home. I had so many dirty clothes I could hardly get in my trailer. Now I have so much room I'm afraid I will get lost, though I don't have to worry about walking in my sleep and falling out a window, ha, ha."

"Say hello to all the boys. Thank Skinny Skirvin for the write-up. When you see any write-ups please save them for me, for after all when I go to sell an ad on the outfit next year, they will help convince any prospects."

Vienna Choir To Appear Here

The Vienna Boys' choir, first presentation of this winter's Artists' Concert series, will appear at the Santa Ana High school auditorium Nov. 23, it was announced today by Clarence Gustlin, local manager.

He announced that more than 500 season tickets had already been sold as a result of the spring campaign.

Forum Will Meet On Wednesday

The open forum at the Unitarian church will be held on Wednesday this week. The speaker will be Dr. Frederick Roman, who conducts forums in several Southern cities. He was in Europe this summer, and will tell of his trip. The affair, open to the public without charge, will begin at 7:45 p. m.

ATTENTION LIMA BEAN GROWERS

The Board of Directors of the Association voted at their regular meeting this week to make the first payment to growers on 1937 crop deliveries of regular Limas on the basis of $3.50 per cwt. on 85% of gross weight or field run. This is a liberal first payment in comparison with the present market price, and the Association is borrowing the money it will require this season at an unusually low rate of interest.

In view of the fact that two of the largest dealers in lima beans died during the past year and their offices have been closed; and with the remaining bean dealers seeming to be very inactive, it would seem to be important and desirable that growers not now members should promptly place their membership with the Association. Usually the Association closes its pool to membership for the season on Oct. 1st, but to afford an additional numbers a further opportunity the Directors voted to hold membership in the 1937 crop pool open until Nov. 1st. Growers should give this immediate consideration and take prompt action.

The Association also desires to warn growers against the practice of lending their beans to dealers or giving dealers possession of their beans without receiving full current market price since such plans would give speculative dealers a chance to bear the market with the grower's own beans.

Bottom Tomato Always Looks Best
By MILLARD BROWNE

"Hands off." That's the title of a two-word lecture on how to be popular with the man in the vegetable department at your favorite grocery store.

Customers who handle the fruit or muss up displays are laying themselves open to the undying contempt of hard-working fruit and vegetable clerks. It's the only universal peeve among Santa Ana produce handlers.

If it were just an occasional customer who pinched a tomato now and then to see if it were ripe, or who pried his way to the bottom of a box of peaches to make sure they're all good, the grocery clerks wouldn't mind so much.

But the public handling is on a bigger scale than that, they point out. Spoilage directly attributed to the customers' habit of man-handling fruit and vegetables amounts to about 3 per cent of the total stock.

Total spoilage runs from 5 per cent in the big markets where turnover is rapid to nearly 15 per cent in the smaller ones.

Soft fruits—pears, peaches, grapes, tomatoes—are more susceptible to spoilage by itchy-fingered patrons. Tomatoes are most easily ruined, and the spoilage loss in this department is twice as high as the average throughout the vegetable business.

Citrus fruit is most likely to spoil because of over-stocking or unexpectedly slow sales. That's because spoiling will "carry" from one orange, lemon or grapefruit to another, and sooner or later will infect a whole bunch. Spoilage also will carry in the softer fruits and in squash.

Not counting the ever-present potato, best selling fresh vegetables are peas and beans, with tomatoes, cabbage, cauliflower and bunch goods going rapidly when they're in season.

One store cited green onions as the slowest-movers, another said it was eggplant. Broccoli, grocers admitted, is one food they have to talk the public into buying.

KIWANIS NAMES B. PARK MAN

Dr. Raymond D. Temple of Buena Park was elected lieutenant-governor of the California Nevada Kiwanis district Saturday in the final session of a three-day convention at Sacramento.

More than 1500 delegates unanimously elected Dr. Fred Ewing, Oakland, district governor for next year. Twelve lieutenant-governors were named, and the Kiwanians passed a resolution "viewing with grave concern the federal government's invasion of private fields of business."

The Santa Ana club was represented at Sacramento by President R. B. Newcom, Dave Carmichael, Art Cannon, Willard Bassett, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Nickey, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Theo Winbigler.

CLOTHING TAKEN

Fifteen dollars worth of women's clothing were stolen when a burglar visited Jesse Griego's home at 808 East second street Saturday, he reported to police. The front door had been left unlocked, he said.

The poorer class of trade goes heavily for potatoes and bunch vegetables. The wealthier and middle-class customers buy fewer potatoes, more fruits and fresh vegetables.

"They don't look for nickel bunches," one attendant explained, "but they're more interested in eating what's good for them." That brings heavy sales in spinach, cauliflower, broccoli, squash, etc., among the better-class trade.

The fresh produce department of large grocery stores demands more constant attention than any other branch. The fruit and vegetables must be rearranged every few minutes, because displays are soon torn down by bargain-seekers who paw through the produce stacks.

Spoiled fruit and leaves that have fallen from fresh foods must be cleaned out several times a day. These "leavings" usually are trotted out to the alley, and most of the big stores later take them to some nearby hog ranch or other stock farms, while the smaller ones leave spoiled food for the garbage man.

Public handling of food is not limited to pinching and poking examination, but also includes much sampling of tasty fresh vegetables and disrupting of display stacks because, as one grocer said, "the customer usually likes the bottom one."

Approximately half of the fresh fruit and vegetables sold in Santa Ana is grown in rural Orange county. The remainder—including such things as pears, apples, potatoes, etc.—is cleared through some Los Angeles produce house as a rule.

WAR VETERANS ENJOY PICNIC

Sixty members of Calumit camp, United Spanish War Veterans, attended an all-day picnic at the Citrus Belt U. S. W. V. club, at Irvine park. These organizations are the fun making bodies of the parent organizations.

The committee under the command of Chairman Walter W. Tautinger, past commander of Calumit camp, was publicly thanked by Past Commander Walter Lynch, Long Beach, president of the club. Those assisting Chairman Tautinger were Past Commanders C. Cooper, James A. Randel, Warren L. Cook, Commodore J. H. Fitzpatrick and James Isbell, and Commander Charles I. Reagan.

About 500 persons attended the dinner. Department officers were there in the person of Elmer L. Cole, commander; Clifford Judd, chief of staff, and Al. C. Munson, adjutant. There was a large gathering of the Fourteenth Cavalry association, of which Thomas F. Graham and John W. Hess of Santa Ana are members and were in attendance.

Battery D, First California Heavy Artillery association, met for dinner and the following Orange county men were in attendance: Howard G. Cooper, Costa Mesa; Abel M. Davis, Fullerton; Charles E. Dixon, past department commander of the department of California, Santa Ana.

Calumit camp and auxiliary are to have a card party at the Knights of Columbus hall tomorrow night. Wednesday the auxiliary sewing circle will hold an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Waltz, 211 Bay avenue, Balboa, Calumit members are invited.

Stolen Bicycle Found, But Owner Has New One

A bicycle theft that occurred six weeks ago was solved yesterday when police found the vehicle; but now they don't know what to do with the stolen article.

A little Mexican boy was riding the "bike" at Fourth and Main streets, and police identified it as the one stolen Aug. 24 from Herbert Petty, 1805 West Second street.

Claiming a drunk had given it to him as a present on his tenth birthday a few days ago, the sobbing Mexican boy was released, but the bicycle was confiscated. Petty, meanwhile, has received a new bicycle from an insurance company that had covered the stolen one.

DRUNK DRIVING

Arrested on drunk driving charges late yesterday afternoon, Felipe Collin, 34, Glorietta, was released last night when he posted $200 bond.

School bells rang today for bankers of Santa Ana and Orange county, as more than 65 bankers had enrolled for classes offered in the Francis Willard Junior High school here.

Classes offered this year, under the leadership of President Frank Nuslein of the Orange Savings bank, head of the Orange county chapter of the American Institute of Banking, include every phase of the banking business.

"Bank Organization and Operation" is being taught by Harry F. Smith, manager of the Fullerton branch of the Bank of America. This class is for beginners in banking.

"Money and Banking" is being taught by Homer C. Chaney, former local banker who is well-known in this section.

"Escrow Problems and Court Cases" is the subject of a class being taught by R. Carson Smith.

LARGE ATTENDANCE This is a continuation of the course in escrows offered last year, and which had such a big attendance that it was necessary to have two classes.

The chapter also has arranged with Chaney to offer a forum of special interest to bank officers and senior bankers. The topic chosen is "Can Drastic Legislation Cure Economic Ills?" The forum will be held in the Willard Junior High school Oct. 19.

TEACHERS WILL HEAR CHOIR

Teachers, instead of being taught, will be entertained to night when the Pasadena Boys choir sings for a session of the county teachers' institute at the high school auditorium.

The program, which begins at 8 p. m., follows:

Paul's Words Are Science Subject

Paul's words to the Romans, "The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death," were the Golden Text on Sunday in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon was, "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?"

One of the Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon cited Paul's words to the Romans: "The night is far spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armor of light." Another selection included his words to the Ephesians: "And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them."

The Lesson-Sermon presented also these correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "We are sometimes led to believe that darkness is as real as light; but Science affirms darkness to be only a moral sense of the absence of light, at the coming of which darkness loses the appearance of reality. So sin and sorrow, disease and death are with suppositional absence of Life, God, and flee as phantoms of error before truth and love."

TWO DRIVERS HELD

S. A. ARTIST CAN'T SEE OWN EXHIBIT

Frank Coburn III As Paintings Displayed

Confined to the hospital for a major operation, Frank Coburn, beloved Santa Ana and Laguna artist, today questioned visitors about his first one-man exhibit at the Bowers Memorial museum—an exhibit he has been unable to see.

Seventy-six years old, Coburn has exhibited many of his pictures one or two at a time throughout the country, but to miss his exclusive exhibit, composed of many pictures he has never before shown the public, is rather hard. "How are they hung? Is the lighting good?" he queries, and receiving an affirmative answer, sinks back on the pillows and talks of the pleasures of his long life of painting.

HERE 30 YEARS

"After all," he says, "self-satisfaction is the biggest part of art. How the public receives the work is relatively unimportant to the real artist trying to portray on canvas an appealing thought or scene."

Coburn's official residence has been in Santa Ana for 30 years. During this time, however, he has traveled over most of the country seeking subjects for his paintings. A large part of those 30 years has been spent in Laguna, and many of his sketches picture graphically the early days of that artist colony.

BIGGEST THRILL

One of his biggest thrills was the selection of one of his paintings for the opening exhibit at the Southwest Museum—one of 76 paintings selected from a choice list of 500 entries. In addition he has had pictures hung in St. Louis, Chicago, Baltimore, Florida, Pasadena, Los Angeles, Santa Ana, Laguna and San Francisco.

He is most grateful to a chance meeting with William Wrigley, Jr. Coburn painted one of Wrigley's boats, and Wrigley, who claimed not to like or understand art, took a sudden interest in the painting. From that time on Wrigley began buying pictures, and chief among his many buys were paintings by Frank Coburn.

Coburn's present one-man exhibit at the Bowers museum is a striking one. Attracting chief interest is a painting of his mother which he did years ago but has never before shown the public. Graphic street scenes are frequent themes. There are 20 featured paintings in the exhibit, and many other sketches, chiefly of Laguna, in unframed mountings.

The exhibit may be viewed at the museum all this week.

Peruvian Studies Scale Control

A visitor from Peru came to Orange county today to seek help for his country.

He is Fernando Grana, graduate agricultural engineer from the university at Lima, Peru, and he wants to learn all he can about the control of purple scale on citrus.

Entire plantings have been wiped out by the purple scale in Peru, and new plantings which have been put in recently now are threatened with destruction again.

Grana plans to come back to Orange county again Wednesday so that he may study scale control in the county employed here. He will be assisted by Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs.

New York Cuts Death Toll With Highway Pretzels

By The AP Feature Service

NEW YORK.—"Pretzels" have cut down the crossing-crash toll on the maze of highways around New York City. Not real pretzels, of course, but welters of crossover roads, like this one on the Long Island parkway system. This is the most complicated of several that have been built near the city in the last few years.

Such systems amount to switches. Cars are routed by signs to lanes that lead to intersecting roads. These lanes pass over or under main highways and take the car out on different roads so that a driver never has to face the hazard of cross-currents of traffic.

Church Unity Stressed In S. A. Pastor's Sermon

The Rev. C. M. Aker, pastor of Spurgeon Methodist church, spoke Sunday evening in his series of Sunday evening sermons on "What People Are Asking," on the question, "Why So Many Churches?" He said in part:

"One of the questions which people are asking today is, 'Why are there so many churches?' This question is not merely asked by those who have no use for the church, but by many sincere people both within and without our organized churches."

"It seems that if there ever was a time in the history of mankind there should be a loyal support of that particular branch of the universal church which Christ declared was the instrument 'to bring in the kingdom.' We should realize that while the churches are many in forms the Kingdom of God is one, and in it we can all find a place to work definitely for the coming of the Kingdom."

"Furthermore, we should also realize that while we are a obliged to recognize the fact of the disagreement of churches at this present time, that it is our duty to continue to pray and to work for union wherever possible, without trying to force the issue of union where it is not wanted, but listen and look for the leading of Him who is the great head of the church, 'which is His body.'"

The very attempts, however, to get together reveal how far apart we still are, so far as organic union of the Protestant churches is concerned, to say nothing of Catholic and Protestants and other major religious bodies. All believe that the church is not merely a human organization, but a community of which the Lord Jesus Christ is the head; and all agree that there is essentially only one church, a church within the churches; and furthermore, all are willing to admit that their particular denomination does not exclusively express all that is implied in the church as set forth in the New Testament.

HARMONY DIFFICULT

"The trouble comes, however, when these various organizations undertake to harmonize their fundamental agreements and make them work in a united way. This seems so far to be absolutely impossible."

"The question comes home to all who believe in the church, and who want to see it prosper and take its rightful place in the world."

Two Honored At Dessert Bridge

As a compliment to her husband's mother, Mrs. H. C. Sutherland, and an aunt, Mrs. Belle Crowe, Mrs. K. H. Sutherland extended the hospitality of her lovely home at 2424 Riverside drive Saturday afternoon to a group of close friends.

As the guests arrived at the colorfully-decorated home, they were seated at three small four-piece tables and at a single large table in the dining room. Centerpieces for the small tables were miniature replicas of the large bowl of chrysanthemums on the large table, for they held single chrysanthemums with sprays of purple sage.

A dessert course was served early in the afternoon and the guests were introduced to Mrs. H. C. Sutherland and to Mrs. Crowe, who is visiting here from Salem, Ind. Five tables of bridge were in play during the afternoon, and dainty prizes of crystal perfume bottles and cologne were awarded to Mrs. Charles Swanner and Mrs. Cassius Paul, high point winners.

Those who called to greet the two guests of honor included Mrs. Charles Swanner, Mrs. Howard Rapp, Mrs. Ira Kroese, Mrs. James Anderson, Mrs. C. G. Dowds, Mrs. E. L. Russell, Mrs. Lorin G. Masses of zinnias which Mrs. Suddaby and Mrs. Suddaby have been given on Friday when they attended the Pomona fair, were used effectively throughout the lovely home for decorations. The dinner table was centered with a mirror in a ring of autumn leaves, in which were heaped bright-colored fall fruits. Tall rust-shaded candles were on either side of the centerpiece.

Enjoying the dinner which was climaxed with the serving of birthday cakes and gifts, were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Suddaby, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Suddaby, Mr. and Mrs. John Suddaby, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Owens and daughter Pauline, Patsy Suddaby, and Mrs. Arthur Koepsel.

Book Review of the Week

Editor's Note: This is one of a series of weekly book reviews of current publications which will appear each Monday in The Journal. "THE WIND FROM THE MOUNTAINS," by Trygve Gulbransen (Courtesy Treasure Isle Gift Shop, 506 North Main)

It is always with a feeling of impending tragedy that I commence a book by a Scandinavian author; tragedy in the true Greek sense of the word, in which a cruel destiny brings the every effort of its victim to naught. "The Wind from the Mountains" is strikingly different from most others of its nationality for it contains a note of hope, and the ending shows the supreme victory of a man's release from absorption in himself.

Trygve Gulbransen's second book to be translated into English is a continuation of that other widely read novel, "Beyond the Woods," but is complete in itself, and it is not necessary to have read the first book in order to understand this one. Adelaide has grown into a beautiful woman and marries young Dag, the son of the proud, cold folk of Bjornland. According to the custom of Norway in the early nineteenth century the young couple make their home with old Dag in the huge, rambling series of farmhouses which generations of the family had made secure from the wildness of the surrounding mountains and forest.

The new household was a strange one. Though proud of his peasant ancestry, old Dag was virtually a nobleman; was the richest and most powerful personage in all that locality. Besides his own vast lands he held countless mortgages, and his shrewdness and ruthlessness had become almost legendary. Young Dag was a silent, gentle, happy only in the woods. Before the marriage he and Adelaide had exchanged only a few words, and though it was a love match, old Dag even proposed for him. Townspeople, Adelaide, raised by her grandmother who was daughter of a bishop, had no understanding of all these wild meanings but rough mountain people. She loved her husband, revered old Dag, and longed to prove to both that she was worthy the title of Mistress of Bjornland, with its countless servants, its great wheat fields, its barns and granaries and cellars, and its tradition as one of the proudest and most lavish families in all Norway.

Happiness was an elusive quality in the lives of these three, and as the years went on each grew morbid, introspective, farther and farther apart from the others. The death of Adelaide's

Orange Young People Wed In Home

In a lovely setting of white chrysanthemums, white larkspur, palms and candelabra, the marriage of Miss Laura M. Malin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Malin, and Donald F. Ribeau, Orange, was solemnized at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, in the home of the bride's parents on East Washington street, Orange. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ribeau, Austin, Kan.

Attired in blue satin brocade with a corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She carried dainty handkerchiefs, the gift of her grandmother, Mrs. Ida Malin. Mrs. Elmer Amling, Santa Ana, was the only attendant of her sister, and was gown in wine novelty crepe, with a corsage of white orchids.

Lawrence Ribeau, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Mrs. Frank Malin of Pasadena, at the piano played the Lohengrin wedding march, and "Love's Dream," following the ceremony. She also accompanied her husband as he sang, "I Love You Truly."

A cousin of the bride, the Rev. Merle Edwards, pastor of the Burbank Presbyterian church, read the rites before about 70 guests, following which the entire group went to the Doris-Kathryn Tea shoppe in Santa Ana for a reception. In the receiving line besides the bride and groom were the bride's mother, who wore dark blue Suzette crepe with red rosebud corsage, was Mrs. Lawrence Ribeau, dressed in black novelty crepe with red rosebud corsage, and Elmer Amling.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Ribeau wore a blue suit with blue accessories. The couple will be away about one week and will then stay in the home of her parents, who are making an extended visit to relatives and friends in the east. In about six weeks the newlyweds will establish their home in Orange.

The bride is a graduate of the Orange union high school, and is a member of the Beta Sigma Phi, and a girls' business club of Santa Ana. She has been employed for some time as secretary of the Carpenter Water district. The bridegroom was educated in Osborne, Kan., and is in the trucking business in Orange.

Simple Rites Performed At Home

The quiet simplicity of her own home was chosen by Miss Jane McBurney as setting for her marriage late yesterday afternoon to Harold Kenneth Baker of Needles. Baskets of autumn dahlias from the gardens of Dr. Emmett Raitt decorated her home, that of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McBurney, 401 East Washington avenue, but it was before an all-white background that the vows were taken.

Tall white tapers and baskets of beautiful white dahlias flanked the mantel before which the young couple stood as the Rev. A. E. Kelly of the United Presbyterian church officiated at the nuptial ceremony. They were unattended.

The bride wore the smart green crepe ensemble with black accessories in which she embarked on her honeymoon, and a corsage of gardenias.

Immediately following the ceremony, during which the only music was the wedding march played by Miss Sybil Baker, the McBurneys were hosts to the immediate family and close friends who were present. A beautiful tiered wedding cake was served by Miss Baker.

After a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Baker will make their home at 609 Broadway, Needles. The bride attended the Santa Ana High school and junior college and is a member of Phi Omega sorority. Mr. Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Baker of Downey, attended school at Downey and is connected with the Santa Fe railroad.

LOCAL WOMAN ATTENDS NATIONAL MEET

Mrs. Erna B. McClelland, owner of the Chicago College of Beauty, returned home late last week after attending a week's convention of the All-America Beauty Culture Schools association which was held in the Biltmore hotel, Los Angeles.

Mrs. McClelland was a member of the entertainment committee for the convalescing, planning trips to points of interest throughout Southern California for the guests. She was elected fourth vice president of the association, to serve at the convention in the Netherlands-Plaza hotel in Cincinnati, Ohio, next year.

Student members of Kappa Alpha Chi, all enrolled in the local beauty college, were special guests at some of the sessions last week.

CHURCH GROUP ENTERTAINED

Members of the Christian Endeavor society of the United Brethren church were entertained at a wiener roast and social evening in the home of Harold Jackson, 235 West Main street, Orange, on Friday evening.

About 14 members were present for the pleasant informal party, and four new members were voted into the organization.

GROWING OLD

"They say that we grow old When we no longer strive to learn."

When we no longer keep in rhythm With Youth and Spring; When we are deaf to bird-notes carolling; When we no longer feel a thrill To see The beauty of each budding flower and tree.

I will not pause to count my years That walk with me; But try and keep my faith so I can see

That in the circle of my arms I hold These gifts that come to me a thousand-fold.

Some people want to shout their wares from the housetops... some hide their light under a bushel. The latter seems to fit Mary Merrick Smale of Orange, whom I have met in the "Crown Anthology." She lives on an orange ranch, is well over the allotted time of three score and ten, yet has the bearing and brilliant mind of a much younger woman.

She has been a teacher, a newspaper woman and, proudest of all, the mother of sons.

GOD'S PRISONER You say to me that I am blind, These eyes no more may see. Now who is there in all this world who can be eyes for me? I feel the all-beholding sun, and yet I see no light, In vain I lift my eyes to Him, there's nothing there but night.

Some men have a thousand eyes, their thousand lenses shine, No single one remains to me, to cheer this gloom of mine; My fount of tears abides undrained, my grief I still must keep, And though again I may not see, I need no eyes to weep. May not one ray remain to me, through which the light may ride, From out my fast-receding world, to touch my path untired? If not, then I shall talk with God, through futures strangely dim, Who draped my windows, closed my doors, and shut me in with Him.

MARY MERRICK SMALE. "Crown Anthology."

There Are Real Advantages to Being Short; No Need for Inferiority

Diminutive Miss Twenty-Six, who has a deplorable inferiority complex because people are constantly remarking about her size and should be visibly cheered by the many letters our readers are sending her. For instance, the tiny girl can take advantage of her slight stature in any number of ways. If you don't believe it, just read what this short woman has to say:

Dear Miss Stoddard: I'd like to add to what you wrote to Miss Twenty-Six, who feels badly because she is only 5 feet 1 inch tall. I am a half inch shorter than that.

The only time it really bothers me to be short is when I am waiting at a department store counter to be served and some big, imposing, bosomy woman sails up in her double fox furs and two saleswomen fall over each other to help her pick out her one spot of thread, leaving me to continue waiting.

But when it comes to bargain sales I can slip under the bosomy woman's elbows without notice and there I am, the first to be served, and slip away with my prize. And there is always room to let me into a crowded elevator, while the tall woman is told to wait for the next one, though she doesn't take up any more floor space than I.

When I used to go to dances a lot, both the tall and short men asked me to dance while the tall girls had only the tall men to choose from.

A short woman can pick out "cute" clothes, but the tall woman has to be more careful and she usually has to pay more for them, especially for stockings. Most of my women friends are taller than I, and nearly all over 5 feet 5 have expressed their envy of me because, though I am and have always been overweight, I can wear so many things they would like to have but look ridiculous in.

A dignified manner is almost impossible for a little woman to achieve, but she can sit on the floor or read the newspaper on her hands and knees, as I do, and get away with it. I truly believe, because of the greater activity, or even gymnastics if you wish to call it that, permitted a small woman, she may retain her youthfulness longer than the tall woman who has to watch her dignity.

Miss Stoddard is right about smallness inspiring the protective instinct in men. But tall women will also look out for you, Miss Twenty-Six, if you give them the opportunity. The next time you are at a parade, instead of cringing in the rear, make a big to-do about standing on your tiptoes and craning your neck, and almost anyone in front of you, be he man or woman, will smile and push you in front where you can see. And be thankful you are extremely short, because if you were medium height, it wouldn't happen.

And, if you get your man, you have this to look forward to. You can sit on his lap without breaking in men. But tell women they will also look out for you, Miss Twenty-Six, if you give them the opportunity. The next time you are at a parade, instead of cringing in the rear, make a big to-do about standing on your tiptoes and craning your neck, and almost anyone in front of you, be he man or woman, will smile and push you in front where you can see. And be thankful you are extremely short, because if you were medium height, it wouldn't happen.

True, you will never be able to wear double fox furs, sway down a broad stairway waving a dramatic ostrich plume fan or wear clothes like Kay Francis, but since few can afford these things anyway, it won't matter.

Look around you and notice how many tall women stoop and slouch, trying to make themselves appear shorter. Listen to their troubles trying to find clothes with sleeves, waistlines and hemlines long enough, how the new hats make them look even taller than they are, and give your sympathy to them instead of seeking it for yourself.

Supper Given To Honor Couple

Since it was the first opportunity to introduce Mrs. Harry Jackson to their group of friends, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Woolley joined in entertaining at an evening of bridge and a late supper in the Holmes home at 1238 South Ross street Saturday evening.

Four tables of bridge were in play for the early part of the evening in an autumn setting created by baskets of pompon dahlias in rust shades and bowls of Mexican sunflowers. Supper was served at four tables by Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Woolley, assisted by Mrs. Reece Greene.

A guest prize was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, while Reece Greene and Mrs. Thomas E. Williams were awarded the high prizes for bridge play.

Present for the informal evening were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Reece Greene, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Bond, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Archer, and the two host couples, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. Woolley.

FULLERTON HOME SCENE OF LOVELY TEA

Joining as charming hostesses, Mrs. Jackson Scott and Mrs. E. S. Glenger of Buena Park entertained at a delightful tea given in the Scott home at 906 East Chapman street, Fullerton, for the Orange County Osteopathic auxiliary on Saturday afternoon.

An interesting program presented during the afternoon featured Mrs. Albert Launer, vice president at large of the Federated Women's clubs, speaking on "What Is Expected of the Doctor's Wife." Listing the requisites, she emphasized health, poise, a sense of humor, happiness, hobbies, and a desire to help others.

A gardenia corsage, a gift of the hostesses, was worn by Mrs. Launer on her blue crepe ensemble with rose and grey blouse. One of the hostesses, Mrs. Glenger, spoke to the group briefly on "The Pre-School Child."

During the tea hour, Mrs. H. J. Howard, president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. W. W. Illsey poured at a lace-covered table which was centered by an opalescent bowl filled with stemless orange and yellow carnations. Tiny open-face sandwiches, cookies, and nuts completed the dainty refreshments served to the guests.

Before the ladies dispersed, the auxiliary planned to give an evening Halloween party in the lovely home of Dr. Harold G. Carlin, with members of the Osteopathic association as special guests.

Present for the interesting afternoon were Mrs. Albert Launer, Mrs. H. J. Howard, Mrs. E. P. Illsey, Mrs. W. W. Illsey, Mrs. J. A. Nemo, Miss Faustina Nemo, Mrs. A. E. Vallier, Mrs. H. W. Leeding, Mrs. Lawrence Young, Dr. Bernice Bennett, Dr. Julia Hirsch, Mrs. H. C. Carlin, Dr. Mary E. Wright, Mrs. Jackson Scott, and Mrs. E. S. Glenger.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA ENJOY LUNCHEON

Planning to hold just four meetings a year, Orange county alumnae of Alpha Chi Omega, national college sorority, banded together Saturday afternoon for the purpose of keeping up their sorority bonds.

An informal luncheon at Daniger's was held, at which it was decided that the next meeting would be held in January, with another in April. At the latter session, plans will be made for a rush tea to be given in May.

Participating in the first get-together were Mrs. William Stauffer, Mrs. Robert Mize, Mrs. Nat Neff, Mrs. Howard Lutz, Mrs. Arnold Lund, Mrs. Clarence McCaddin, Mrs. Horace Leeding, Miss Marjorie Lindsey, and Miss Reva Hawkins.
